HANKOW CONTROL RESUMED.

WITHDRAWAL OF CHINESE SOLDIERS.

EUGENE CHEN OFFERS PROFOUND APOLOGIES.

AMERICAN WOMEN LEAVE.

British control of the Concession at Hankow has been resumed and all Chinese soldiers, except the military police, have been withdrawn.

British naval forces have re-landed and are guarding the Concession in co-operation with Chinese military police with whom they are on the best of terms.

Profound apologies have been tendered to the British Consul General by Mr. Eugene Chen on behalf of the Nationalist Government for the desecration of the British War Memorial, a promise being made that the damage will be repaired immediately.

Two important British officials from the Legation in Peking are on their way to Hankow, and it is reported that Vice-Admiral Sir Reginald Tyrwhitt, the new Commander-in-Chief, is proceeding North immediately.

Shanghai, Jan. 7.
"A message from Hankow states that the situation is quiet."

The main gate between the Concession and the Chinese City remains open, half of it having been removed by the mob.

Chinese military police are guarding the Concession in conjunction with British naval and marine forces who have been landed, and who are on the best of terms with the Chinese guards.

There is evidence that the more moderate elements of the Nationalist Government deprecate such incidents as occurred on Tuesday, but it remains to be seen how much power they possess over the left wing.

Meanwhile, it is reported that General Chang Kai-shek proposes to issue instructions that agitations of this nature must cease.—Reuter.

CONTROL RESUMED.
CHINESE SOLDIERS WITHDRAWN.

Hankow, Jan. 7.
By arrangement with the Chinese military authorities, the British have resumed control of the Concession.

The Chinese soldiery, except the military police, have been withdrawn.—Reuter.

WAR MEMORIAL DAMAGE.
MR. EUGENE CHEN'S PROFOUND APOLOGIES.

Rugby, Jan. 6.
In view of the unruly behaviour of Chinese demonstrators by crowding into the British Concession at Hankow, the British Consul General, as a precautionary measure, ordered last night the evacuation of all women and children. They are being conveyed down river to Shanghai.

The Concession was comparatively quiet last night, although further demonstrations were rumoured. The British Consulate was being guarded by Chinese troops.

Mr. Eugene Chen, the Foreign Minister of the Southern National Government, who is in Hankow, has tendered to the British Consul General profound apologies, on behalf of himself and his Government, for the desecration by the mob of the War Memorial in the British Concession, and has promised that the damage shall be immediately repaired.

Mr. Eugene Chen has deprecated, as unnecessary, the evacuation of British women and children, stating that he could personally guarantee their immunity from danger or trouble. He expresses a hope for a speedy restoration of order and the resumption of business.

A number of American women and children have also been evacuated from the United States Consulate General at Hankow.—British Wireless.

CANTON FERMENT.

FEARS OF LABOUR CRISIS.

FATSHAN ALSO UNEASY.

It is reported from Canton that in view of the seriousness of the labour troubles, which are reaching a climax, the principal Kuomintang officials, including Generals Li Chai-sun and Chien Ta-chun, have jointly telegraphed to General Chang Kai-shek requesting further instructions to deal with the situation adding that if action is not taken, events of the utmost seriousness may occur.

FATSHAN CRISIS.

It appears that Fatshan has now become involved in the labour troubles, especially between the branches of the Workers' Representative Conference and the Kwangtung General Labour Union. Although the position is not quite so serious as it is in Canton, skirmishes have during the past few days taken place, involving the workers on the Samshui Railway, with the result that railway traffic between Canton and Fatshan ceased on the 3rd and 4th instants.

This development caused a deal of panic, whilst prices of all commodities immediately rose. The Fatshan authorities are unable to handle the situation and are requesting instructions from the Canton Government.

SWATOW EASIER.

A report from Swatow states that since the receipt of the regulations for the settlement of labour troubles, and for the elimination of some of its causes, with strict orders from General Chang Kai-shek to prohibit Union men carrying arms in the streets, labour troubles have somewhat abated there through the strong measures taken by the Chief of the Police Department, Mr. Ho Chup Ng. Moreover, the suspension of military operations in Fukien has given the local authorities an opportunity to deal with the unruly elements in the Labour Union, and agitators and mischief-makers are now seldom seen in public places.

LABOUR PROCESSIONS.

However, the New Year was observed with much celebration by the Labour Unions whose members paraded the streets with flags and banners announcing the progress of the Nationalist armies. Students, both boys and girls, were seen in large numbers in the procession, whilst loud cheers given by onlookers whenever a banner bearing the inscription of a certain victory, greeted their eyes. In the evening there was a lantern procession, and the streets through which the procession passed were all decorated with flags and bunting whilst all the shops were illuminated. What delighted the people most was the hoisting of the Nationalist flag at the Customs House. It is no exaggeration to say that no flag was ever hoisted in Swatow, was greeted with such tremendous applause and vociferous cheering.

BIG ARMS HAUL.

CHINESE HEAVILY FINED IN LONDON.

London, Jan. 6.
A fine of £359 was imposed on Wing Ah-nang, a seaman of the Glen liner Glengarry, who pleaded guilty at London to illegally importing and concealing on the vessel 48 revolvers and 4,760 rounds of ammunition, which were found in a wooden case protecting the hot water pipes in the hold. Prisoner said he brought them from Hamburg where they were brought to the Glengarry in a motor boat and that he was going to take them to "friends" in Shanghai.—Reuter.

SOUTHERNERS SUFFER REVERSES.

MARKED CHANGE IN CHEKIANG SITUATION.

MORE ATTACKS PLANNED.

Reports to hand state that the defeat of the Kuomintang troops near Fuyang has had a strong effect in heartening Marshal Sun Chuan-fang's forces.

General Mang Chao-yuet, after the victory, had a conference in Fuyang with his subordinate, Han Kang-yu, who was responsible for the success, and they are said to have discussed plans for attacking the Southerners in three directions, their objectives being Tung-lo, Sunyang and Fanshui, where the Kuomintang troops are concentrated.

At present, according to telegrams to hand, the Chekiang situation is undergoing a marked change, and the tension at Hangchow is materially relieved. There

CUSTOMS QUESTIONS.

Sir Francis Aglen Visits Shanghai.

Peking, Jan. 6.
Sir Francis Aglen, Inspector General of the Chinese Maritime Customs, left quietly for Shanghai on Monday.

It is understood that the object of Sir Francis' visit is to discuss Customs affairs with the Commissioner of Customs and bankers.—Reuter.

There are no marked changes at Ningpo, but serious fighting is said to be taking place at Sanghai.

In addition to the success at Fuyang, General Chow Yam-yan has secured a victory over the Southerners at Wang Ngam, on the Lingkiang River.

NICARAGUA'S REVOLT.

U. S. STRENGTHENS PROTECTION.

Washington, Jan. 6.
The Navy Department announces that reinforcements, consisting of two cruisers, three destroyers, one submarine, one tender and 400 Marines are being despatched to Nicaragua, in order to enable Admiral Latimer thoroughly to protect American lives and property.—Reuter's American Service.

ARGENTINE STUDENTS PROTEST.

Buenos Aires, Jan. 6.
Protests against American policy in Nicaragua were voiced at a meeting last night of the student organisation known as the Anti-Imperialist League. Several Socialist Deputies addressed the gathering.—Reuter.

LATER FERRIES.

EARLY MORNING SERVICE.

Ferry services across the harbour after the midnight hour, are being further extended by the Hongkong and Yumati Ferry Company having brought into being an altered schedule as a result of which residents detained late on the island or vice versa can leave either side as late as 2.40 a.m.

Commencing from yesterday, it is announced that a launch will leave simultaneously the Pottinger Street wharf and the Company's pier at Yumati every twenty minutes after midnight, this late service, for which only twenty cents is being charged, being maintained up till 2.40 from either point.

This is an announcement which will be gladly received by residents, and the officials of the Company will receive due credit for their enterprise.

SUNNING PIRACY.

ARGUMENT FOR THE DEFENCE.

TWO LEGAL SUBMISSIONS.

The number of defendants being tried at the Magistracy in connection with the Sunning piracy is now reduced to four, these being the Formosan and three of the ex-members of the Philadelphia's crew who shipped from Shanghai on the Sunning. Mr. M. K. Lo secured the discharge, yesterday, of the monumental mason from Aberdeen, and in the case of the remaining four men, for whom he is also appearing he opened his defence when the case resumed this morning.

Proposing to speak but very briefly Mr. Lo said he thought there was no real conflict between himself and the Crown as to the extent of the evidence against the remaining defendants. Therefore, he thought it would not waste time if he were to address the Court very shortly, on the law of (1) evidence of identification, and (2) limitation of the Magistrate's powers of committal and the extent of his Worship's discretion to discharge the accused on account of conflict of evidence.

IDENTIFICATION DIFFICULTIES.

In regard to the first of these points, Mr. Lo quoted authorities to show that the value of evidence of identification, doubtful at all times from the possibility of two men being very much alike, must necessarily be reduced where distinguishing marks were absent, and, most important, when the persons called upon to identify, were in that state of mind described variously as funky, excited, or abnormal from circumstances which made them confused and liable to fall into error when pointing out the suspects. To these other factors, must be added the circumstances which actually surrounded the piracy, when events moved quickly and the number of pirates was uncertain; whilst the circumstances were such as to introduce the element of confusion in identification. They had had instances in the case of those of the defendants who had been tried and had subsequently to be discharged on a conflict of material evidence.

It was quite clear, therefore, that on the conflict of evidence such as had been revealed by the present proceedings, no tribunal or jury could convict on such evidence as was furnished by the mere statement of "Yes, I saw him armed," or "I saw him in my room."

VALUE OF EVIDENCE.

Turning to the second of his submissions, Mr. Lo quoted from more familiar authorities—firstly, the now famous Hung Shu-lin deportation case, of 1915; and, secondly, the Full Court of Appeal case concerning the extradition of Chung Sau-nam, a year earlier. It was admitted in the first of the cases quoted (which was tried by Mr. Justice Gompertz), that there was a big difference between the duties of the Magistrate in a case of extradition and in a trial where the accused were merely brought up on an indictable charge.

In cases of extradition, it was no part of the Magistrate's duty to try the case, but to decide, on the value of the evidence, either the committal or the discharge of the prisoner. How much more was that point in favour of the accused, when, in an ordinary criminal trial, the Magistrate had fuller discretion in that, even though a prima facie case had been made out, the circumstances were so obscure and the testimony so much in conflict, that he would not be able to convict?

DESTITUTE RUSSIAN BOY.

CHARGED IN COURT AS A VAGRANT.

PITIFUL STORY.

A sixteen year-old Russian boy, Elija Nihito Phomenko, whose peasant parents died of starvation in the Russian famine of 1921, was charged at the Central Police Court to-day as a vagrant.

Appealing for leniency, the boy said that he was a native of Ekaterinoslav, sent to school after the death of his parents, he went to Odessa in 1925, stowed away in a Russian ship and reached Vladivostok. He was unable to obtain employment and stowed away on the Glenapp.

He left the boat at Singapore in December, 1925, and he worked for his keep on a rubber plantation for a Mr. Frankel. He was receiving no salary and eventually, with the assistance of seamen, he stowed away again, on the M. M. s.s. D'Artagnan. At Aien he was discovered by the officers and sent back to Singapore.

He was imprisoned there and then sent by the s.s. Hakozaki Maru to Shanghai. He's only suit was a white one and he landed in Hongkong with the idea of getting warmer clothes. The boat left without him.

Det. Sergt. Elston said arrangements were being made to send the lad to Shanghai. A Japanese boat would be leaving on Monday or Tuesday next.

Nihito was sent to the House of Detention until the necessary arrangements are made.

SNATCHING EVIL.

DRASTIC STEPS BEING TAKEN.

The frequency with which foreign ladies are being victimised by bag snatchers has led the authorities to take very stern measures whenever an arrest is made. Usually, heavy punishment is inflicted, the customary sentence being six months' hard labour and several strokes of the birch.

It will be learned with interest that the police are now adopting an even more drastic step in an endeavour to put a stop to the danger that ladies of the Colony are subjected.

When the delinquent in a recent incident in which Mrs. J. Barros Maher was assaulted and robbed at the junction of Nathan and Jordan Roads, was charged before Mr. T. W. Ainsworth, at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning, the police, in making an application for a date to be fixed for hearing, intimated that the case would be taken to the Sessions.

The defendant was remanded formally for one week, his Worship not having a vacant date before then.

HIGHWAY ROBBERS.

TWO CASES REPORTED.

Two highway robberies are reported by the Police. One of these occurred yesterday at Aberdeen, near the Paper Mills, when a Chinese woman was stopped by two men and robbed of her personal trinkets, valued at $55. The second affair occurred on the railway line near Lowu Station. A married couple were stopped by armed men who found nothing more valuable on their victims than two dollars in Chinese copper cents.

RADIO WONDER.

AN EPOCH-MAKING EVENT.

MARVELLOUS TELEPHONY.

Rugby, Jan. 6.
Trans-Atlantic wireless telephony service between London and New York opens officially to-morrow.

It is an epoch-making event. Telephony by wireless was accomplished a quarter of a century ago, but it was then in such a form as to be impracticable for ordinary commercial usage. It had to await the advent of the thermionic valve, which has revolutionised wireless communication. Beginning with quite a small size, such as is used in the local broadcasting of to-day, the valve has been increased in power year by year until to-day large power valve transmitters of 200 kilowatts capacity are in service for telephony between London and New York.

WHAT HAPPENS.

What happens in a conversation is that when a subscriber in London speaks, say from his office, his voice currents pass to a trunk exchange and thence along special underground long-distance cables to the wireless station at Rugby. There they undergo transformation which converts them into wireless waves, which pass across the Atlantic to Houlton, in Maine, where the receiving arrangements of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company are installed. From Houlton, they pass by a land line, for 600 miles to New York long-distance exchange and thence to the intended recipient.

THE REPLY.

When a New York subscriber replies, his voice currents pass to the long-distance exchange and thence along underground cables for 70 miles to the wireless station on Long Island. Here they are transformed into wireless waves and traverse the ocean to Wroughston, near Swindon, where a Post Office receiver converts the wireless waves back into voice frequency currents, suitable for transmission along underground cables to the London trunk exchange and thence to the subscriber.

AUTOMATIC SWITCHES.

In order to economise other space, both transmission and reception are worked on the same wave-length. This necessitates the use of switching devices which are controlled by the voice in such a way that when a subscriber in London speaks his circuit to New York is switched on, and the circuit from New York to London is switched off. As soon as he ceases speaking the switches are restored automatically, and when the New York subscriber replies his voice works the switches so that he is connected to London and the circuit and New York incoming from London is temporarily cut off. This to and from process goes on automatically all the time the conversation is proceeding.—British Wireless.

BELGIUM AND BRITISH MEMORANDUM.

Brussels, Jan. 6.
The report that the French and Japanese reception of the British Memorandum on China has caused Belgium to revise her attitude, is stated in well-informed circles here to be incorrect.

M. Vandervelde is now closely examining the Memorandum, but nothing has occurred to modify the first favourable impression produced in Belgian official circles by the document.—Reuter.

BANKNOTE CASE.

ARGUMENT ON APPEAL ENDED.

The appeal against a judgment of Mr. Justice Wood, who held that the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank were liable to pay a $500 note from which the numbers and date were missing, was continued in the Supreme Court yesterday in Appellate Jurisdiction, before the Chief Justice, Sir Henry Gollan, and the Puisne Judge, Mr. Justice Wood. Mr. Eldon Potter, K.C., is for the appellant, whilst the respondent, a Chinese woman, is represented by Mr. Somerset Fitzroy.

Mr. Fitzroy's Reply. Mr. Somerset Fitzroy, in the course of his reply, referred to the extraordinary rights and privileges enjoyed by the Bank of England with regard to the issue of notes. He mentioned that the Bank of England kept a register of every note it issued and of every one returned. Their system, to a very great extent, prevented fraud and forgery. When Mr. Towns was in the witness box, he stated he had served in the London office of the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank and was asked if when they issued a note for $500 they took the number of it. He replied he did not know, but that there was a record of the first issues of notes. Apparently from that time onward, Mr. Fitzroy said, until they were wiped off, no record at all was made. Mr. Towns had told them it was impossible to examine the numbers every day as was done in the Bank of England. That was a very important difference between the Bank of England notes and the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank notes. He contended that in this particular case the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank were craving all the privileges of the Bank of England without accepting any of its responsibilities.

Mr. Fitzroy proceeded to quote authorities on material alteration, urging that they all dealt with forgeries and not with notes damaged by accident. The Chief Justice pointed out that if the commercial use and utility of a note for business purposes was affected, then that was a material alteration. Mr. Fitzroy: All through the judgments, it refers again, and again to the fact that the notes were forgeries.

What is a Bank Note? The Chief Justice remarked that it had been laid down that it was not essential that the alteration should be done with fraudulent intent. He added that he had always understood a bank note to be an ordinary promissory note issued by a bank, and asked counsel if he had any authority he could quote upon that subject. Mr. Fitzroy referred to his Lordship to the case of McDonnell and Murray, decided in 1860, in which it was laid down by the learned judge that a bank note was nothing but a promissory note payable to bearer on demand.

The Chief Justice: I think that has been generally accepted. There is no particular virtue in a bank. It is a form of promissory note. Mr. Potter: Yes, it is treated as an ordinary promissory note.

The Chief Justice: That being so, it seems to me that we have heard the subject discussed very thoroughly and that we are coming down to rather a finer point than was probable at first. That is, the meaning of section 64 of the Bills of Exchange Ordinance, and the interpretation of the words "where it is materially altered without the consent of all parties." Mr. Potter has put it against you that once you show a material alteration by the production of the note in the course of the case, then the case falls, and I very much doubt whether a judge, trying the case with a jury, would, on a point of law, allow it to go to the jury.

Material Alteration. Mr. Fitzroy submitted that the note had not been materially altered.

SNATCHING CASE.

CHILDREN'S EXCITING EXPERIENCE.

There was a sequel at the Central Magistracy yesterday to an incident on Conduit Road on December 18 when Miss Shirley Egan da Silva was robbed of her handbag. A Chinese was charged with the theft before Mr. Schofield.

Miss Silva said she was on her way to a Christmas party and was in company with Edna and Kenneth Carroll. Going along Conduit road she noticed a Chinese boy and suddenly he came up and snatched her bag. It contained thirty cents in local currency, a fifty cent American jubilee coin and a book of tram tickets. The man was dressed in light blue and wore black socks and shoes.

She failed to pick out the defendant at an identification parade but identified another man. Cross-examined by Mr. F. H. Loseby, defending witness said she returned from Canton a short time ago.

"Just Ran Away."

Edna Carroll, aged 11 said it was about 3.30 in the afternoon when the bag was snatched. She saw the man clearly, and noticed he wore light blue and had his hair brushed back. Witness said she tried to catch hold of the man but he turned round and ran away. She picked out the defendant from eight men in an identification parade.

Questioned by Mr. Loseby she said they walked along the side of the road and ran after each other occasionally.

Mr. Loseby: Who first said the man was dressed in blue?

Witness: I cannot remember who said it first, but Shirley Silva said blue and Kenneth Carroll said blue and so I said blue.

The young boy was also called and said the man was tall and "just ran away" after he had snatched the bag. Witness identified him at the parade.

Coolies and Clean Faces.

Sergeant Carey said the defendant was placed in line with seven others at the parade. In answer to Mr. Loseby he said the men were mainly chair coolies. They were all given blue to wear and all had their hair brushed back.

Mr. Loseby: Then the defendant was the only one who had a clean complexion, all the chair coolies having dirty faces?

Witness: No, they were all about the same.

Mr. Loseby: Then you can find chair coolies with clean faces?

Witness: Yes.

The defence suggested that it was a case of mistaken identity, and the defendant denied taking part in the theft. A head coolie employed at the Naval Yard said he knew the defendant and accounted for his movements on December 18.

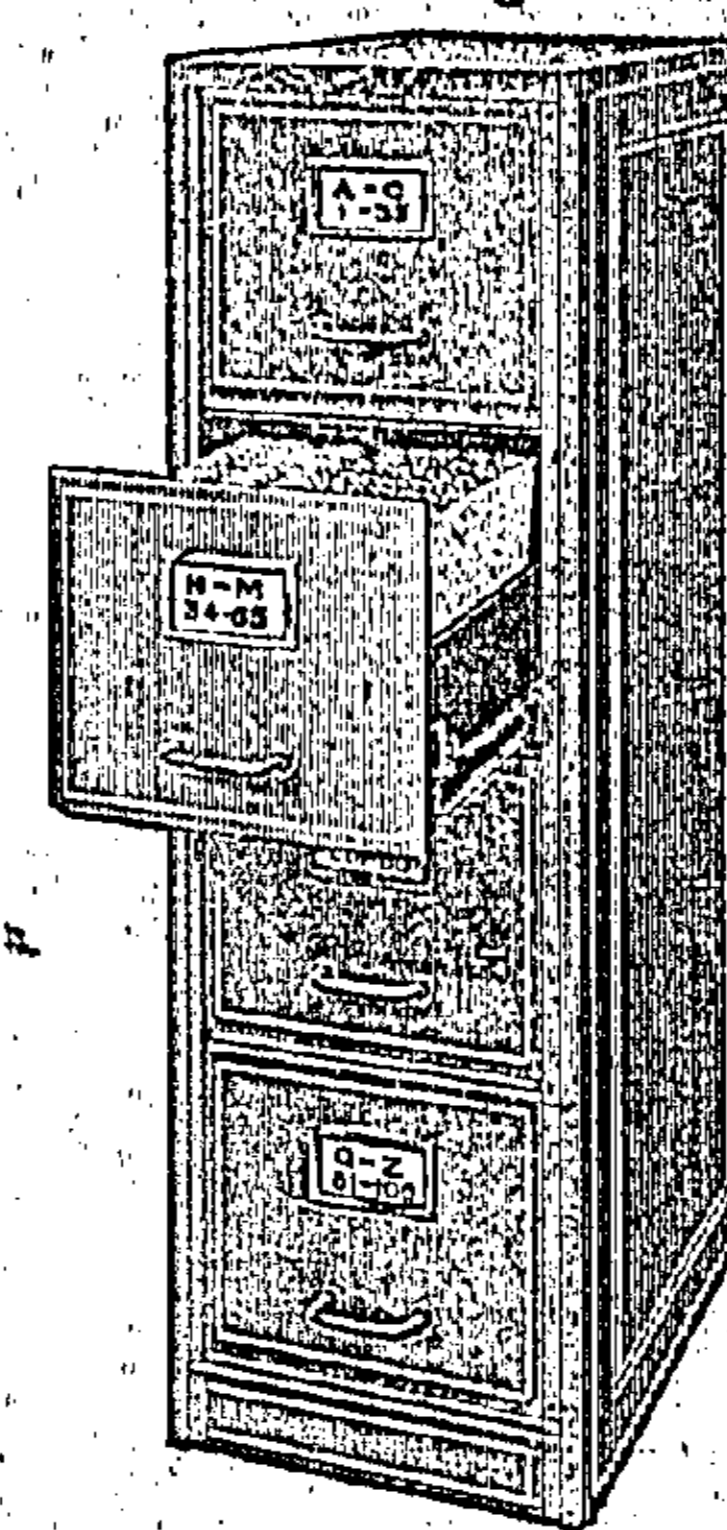

The defendant was discharged.

tered, but had merely met with an accident. It had been washed, starched and ironed, and there was never any intention whatever of altering it. For a note to be materially altered, it must first of all be shown that there was an intention to it. In the case referred to, in which section 64 was dealt with, it was shown, Mr. Fitzroy stated, that the note to be materially altered, they must show that one thing had been substituted for another.

Mr. Potter briefly replied, arguing that there had been a material alteration. It was for the Court to say whether there had been a material alteration, and immediately that was done then whole contract was avoided. If the consideration of the Court was confined to the contract alone, then he admitted judgment would necessarily have to be for the plaintiff, but the contract extended beyond that, for the question of material alteration arose. He contended that if a single line or a single word which comprised a material alteration of the contract had taken place, then the whole contract was avoided.

At the conclusion of Mr. Potter's address, their lordships reserved judgment.

U. S. NAVY.

MORE CONTROVERSY.

Washington, Jan. 6. Presumably as the result of the "big Navy" talk lately noticeable in certain sections of Congress, President Coolidge to-day issued a warning that the budget estimates for the Navy Department for the coming fiscal year must not be exceeded.

The President, in a letter addressed to Mr. French, a member of the House of Representatives, who is in charge of the Naval Supply Bill, declared that the budget represented his best judgment and he felt it to be his duty to defend and support it.

Accepting the warning as a challenge, Mr. Britten member of the House of Representatives Naval Committee, who advocates a strong navy, told the House to-day that "when the President is wrong I refuse to follow him. He is wrong now. I know more about the navy than the President does. The time to appropriate funds for these cruisers is now."

Mr. Britten then repeated the statement made earlier in the day by Rear Admiral Bloch, Chief of Ordnance of the Navy Department, that the United States fleet now included 2,206 units, some of which dated before the time of the Battle of Manila. "One modern ship," the Admiral had said, "could lick the whole bunch of them."

The House of Representatives considered the Bill sectionally, approving several clauses, including that for the maintenance of the navy personnel at its existing strength. Consideration of the more controversial provisions has been postponed. President Coolidge later explained that his object in writing to Mr. French was to correct any impression that he had changed his attitude on the naval appropriation since writing his budget message to Congress.—Reuter's American Service.

NOTICE.

CONCERNING PIECE GOODS AND SUNDRIES GOODS COMMISSIONS.

The following is a translation of a joint-statement made by the Piece Goods Guild and the Sundries Goods Guilds in protest against the increase of commission from 1/2% to 1%, as appearing in the vernacular newspaper, the Wah Tze Yat Po, on the 4th inst.

(1) With regard to the report which appeared in a certain vernacular newspaper, and the discussion taken place during the meetings of the Compradore Association on 30th December last, as reported in the Wah Tze Yat Po, there seems to be some misapprehension.

(2) In consequence of the Strike and Boycott last year, many bankruptcies were caused among our guilds, while surviving members are still in agony. After several joint meetings, we have unanimously agreed that the demand of 1/2% increase in commission by the Compradore Association, simply because of our existing hardships and not due to any ill-feeling whatever towards them, must be protested against.

(3) We regret to hear the Compradore Association declare that they will not alter their decision of the increase, and that if we object to their demand, they would rather stop doing business with us, and then press us to clear all overdue stocks, as a counter action.

(4) It will be remembered that in last March, when business was very dull, the Chinese Chamber of Commerce kindly tried to seek out ways for our relief. It was prior to the affair of May 31st at Shanghai last year. In reply to the appeal of the Piece Goods Guild, the Hongkong General Chamber of Commerce kindly wrote to us on the 14th of May, 1926, that they would persuade importers not to demand from dealers margins for overdue stocks, and not to press hard for clearance of overdue goods, and further consider the deduction of the usual interest, etc.

(5) Besides various hardships confronting our dealers, there are serious troubles prevailing between employees and employers of the Piece Goods in Canton, which brings business to a standstill, and by the end of the Chinese Year, collection of accounts will be very hard. Due to the hardship above-mentioned, which directly affect us, we sincerely hope that the reasonable and experienced members of the Compradore Association will appreciate our difficult position, and abandon the question of increase of compradore commission so as to maintain our friendship and peaceful dealings.

NOTICE.

PIECE-GOODS GUILD AND SUNDRIES GOODS GUILD.

Notice is hereby given that, arising out of a communication received from the Compradores Association intimating that, as from 1st January, 1927, a compradore's commission of 1% shall be charged for all goods, whether contracted "to arrive" or sold from "Spot cargo," joint meetings of the undersigned have been held to discuss the matter. As a result, it has been resolved and decided that, for all future orders for purchase of goods, only the usual 1/2% compradore's commission will be paid, as hitherto, and no increase whatever will be recognised. Apart from notifying the Compradore Association of our above-mentioned resolution, this advertisement is inserted in order to give the matter public notice.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 7, 1927.

MEXICAN OIL DISPUTE.

The first days of the New Year were marked by alarmist reports from Mexico regarding the possibilities of grave trouble arising out of the enforcement of the new oil and land laws, but we are not surprised that nothing untoward has been reported since for we have always thought that there was much more fussy objection made to that law by interested parties than there need have been.
British opinion all along has been that there would be no hasty confiscation or other serious happening and that although the new law was quite definite in its effect on foreign ownership of oil concessions, there would doubtless be reasonable negotiations and accommodation. In view of the strong opposition which has been made by the American oil companies owning concessions in Mexico, it is important to keep in mind what the new Mexican law requires. The law now requires that all concessions which were acquired before 1917 (before which time there were no very accurate records kept) must be registered, and that they will be converted into State concessions, valid for 50 years. If they were not registered before January 1st, the owning Companies were to lose legal recognition of their rights. Lots of these disputed titles were acquired in the revolutionary period and the new law seeks to regularise matters and to restore to Mexico her sovereign rights. British opinion mainly centres around the recognition that Mexico is acting with every right, provided she does not attempt confiscation of property which has been developed in the bona fide belief that such development was lawful.

It ought to be remembered that in the old days there was very fierce competition between British and American oil interests in Mexico, but the control of those interests have now passed to the Royal-Dutch Shell group and the Standard Oil Company of Indiana respectively and that, although keen rivalry still exists, there is not so much bitterness. The British interests and the Mexican Government have agreed to the setting up of a Commission to settle all disputed titles, and there has (owing to other political frictions between the United States and Mexico) been a friendlier feeling between the authorities and British than with the American companies. British oil interests remember that when the Rumanian Government nationalised the subsoil, it was those companies which complied with the Rumanian law that have since been able to carry on the business of oil production smoothly, and it is the memory of the benefits of compliance that has so largely guided British opinion now. The plain recognition of Mexico's rights cannot be avoided. It is believed that most of the oil concessions acquired prior to 1917 (those required to register) will have been fully exploited before the end of the 50-year concession period now given by the Mexican Government as owner of the subsoil rights. The new laws also provide for concessions in the matter of taxes in new territory—concessions which show that the Government is anxious to assist new developments in the oil-fields.

There are undoubtedly one or two clumsy provisions in the new law, but with careful handling and a display of goodwill a solution of all the difficulties should not be hard to find. Unfortunately, the majority of the American owners have taken up an implacably hostile attitude and we shall possibly hear of further Mexican-American friction.

Humanitarian Work.

Gradually, the unthinking sections of the Chinese community are being brought to realise that cruelty to animals is a thing that ought not to be condoned. In this connection, an illuminating and most gratifying incident was witnessed a few days ago in Queen's Road. A Chinese was carrying along the street a pig in a rattan basket, and one of the legs of the animal was protruding in such a way as to cause it a deal of pain. An Indian constable near at hand spotted the man, stopped him and engaged in a conversation, evidently pointing out the injury which was being unnecessarily caused to the pig.
The constable then made the man place the basket on the pavement, turn it over and tuck the pig's leg comfortably in, which done, the two went their appointed ways.
Small in itself, the incident nevertheless shows how healthier ideas are being spread locally. Ten or even five years ago, such a happening would never have taken place, and its occurrence is a tribute to the excellent educational work which is being carried on here, quietly but effectively, by the S.P.C.A. Moreover, the action of the constable illustrated the fact that the police are working in useful co-operation with the Society named. Practically all the cases of cruelty to animals, which we see locally are due, not to a desire to inflict suffering but to sheer thoughtlessness. By slow but steady degrees, however, the Chinese are coming to learn that much of this suffering can be prevented, and by this connection the community owes its thanks to the officials of the S.P.C.A. and especially its inspectors, who are carrying on such an excellent humanitarian campaign amongst the native community.

NEW ADMIRAL.

ARRIVAL OF SIR REGINALD TYRWITT.

Admiral Sir Reginald Yorke
Tyrrwhitt took over his command of the China Squadron this morning, when he hoisted his flag on H.M.S. Hawkins, and a salute was accorded.

Sir Reginald arrived on the s.s.
Morea, accompanied by Lady
Tyrrwhitt and his two daughters.
We understand that the new admiral will leave almost immediately for the North.

Paymaster-Commander K. E.
Baddock, D.S.O., D.S.C., is the Admiral's Secretary.

Vice-Admiral Sir Reginald Tyrr-whitt was one of the big successes of the war. Tall and ruddy of face with bushy black eyebrows, he came to the fore as a dashing fighter in the first naval engagement of the war, on August 27, 1914. He was then in command of the new cruiser Arethusa, which had only been forty-eight hours out of the dockyard, and he led the destroyer flotilla against the enemy, and contributed to the destruction of the German light cruisers Mainz, Köln, and Ariadne. The Arethusa had all her guns put out of action.

Sir Reginald again led the destroyer flotilla in the Heligoland Battle in December of the same year, and he was in the Battle of the Dogger Bank on January 24, 1915, when torpedoed from the Arethusa sank the Blücher at the end of the fight. In February, 1916, the Arethusa, which he still commanded, was sunk by a mine in the North Sea. Sir Reginald was also in the raid on Zeebrugge in April, 1918. He has been unemployed since relinquishing the Scottish command at Rosyth in June, 1925.

Lady Tyrrwhitt was formerly Miss Angela Corbally, daughter of the late Mr. Matthew Corbally, J.P., of Rathbelle Hall, Swords.

The Viceroy at Canton issued a proclamation ordering the cessation

The Very Idea!

Augustus, Emperor of Rome, was a lazy fellow, say those who are excavating in the subterranean cellars of Rome to restore her to imperial grandeur. They have discovered that the Emperor, to save himself trouble in descending from his home on the Palatine to the temple of Vesta in the Forum, where his duties as Pontiff took him, had a new temple built adjoining his home on the Palatine.

Washington, says an American paper, is discussing a new group plan for housing executive offices.
They discuss enclosing the White House with shadowing ranks of skyscrapers, tearing down homes of sacred tradition to make way for this new efficiency. "The president should be near his workers," they say. President Coolidge is not lazy, we know, but it's conceivable that some of those who want to be close to him are. In other words, is this 20th century "efficiency" that would destroy Washington's beauty the same old lethargy of the Emperor Augustus, under another name?

There was a man in our town,
And he used alibis.
He found that it was foolish,
"cause
His wife was twice his size.

French chemists, seeking a substitute for castor oil, which has to be imported, have found a way to secure the oil from grape seeds.
This is said to be of very high quality and suitable for aeroplane engines. Seven or eight gallons of oil are taken from seeds in a ton of grapes.

Aeroplanes, artillery, cavalry and motor equipment were used in South Russia's recent war on locusts which threatened to destroy the crops for hundreds of square miles. Aeroplanes were used in locating the insects, and the troops built great rings of fire nightly around the sleeping pests.

Austin Reed, who has a chain of shirt and collar shops all over England, has just opened in Rogent Street what is believed to be the most unusual shop for men in the world.

To visualize its possibilities, imagine a traveller with plenty of money landing in London with nothing but the clothes in which he stands. He has a lot of social engagements and is in urgent need of a wardrobe in a hurry. He enters this shop.

On the first floor he buys shoes for street and ball room, also shirts, underwear, ties and collars. He goes up another flight and is fitted out with dress shirts and dress clothes.

He goes to another floor and an attendant takes him to a dressing room and bath. In another room a barber is waiting. He wants gloves. The shop has them. "A walking stick or umbrella, he gets them all there.

He's hungry for a smoke. There's a kiosk where he can get cigarettes, cigars, pipes and tobacco.

He's ready for all social adventures. His wardrobe has been completely replenished. He's been outfitted from head to foot and all under one roof.

Clerk: "Hallo! This is the first time I've seen young Jones wearing trousers on the links."

Mashie: "Oh! haven't you heard?
He came down the other day in something that looked like plus fines and went out without a candle, taking only two clubs. He hadn't got any farther than the first green, when the wind caught him.
A fold of spare material from the starboard side fairly engulfed him.
He fought gamely, but the odds were too great, and soon nothing could be seen but a bundle of tweed with the clubs sticking out. We unravelled him and took him back to the club house. Of course, he was fearfully peeved. But what finished him off was the discovery that old Colonel Pepper had lodged a complaint that some member had left his knitting lying about on one of the greens."

His wife started nagging him.
She thought that he would weep.
But, lo, instead of arguing
He simply fell asleep.

BURGLAR SENTENCED.

SEQUEL TO EXCITING STRUGGLE.

The discovery of an armed burglar on premises in Russell Street, a desperate struggle which ensued in the darkness and in which two men fought grimly for the possession of an ugly-looking knife, and the eventual capture of the intruder after he had inflicted a number of nasty cuts on his adversary, were facts which emerged from the hearing of charges of attempted burglary, wounding and possession of a dangerous weapon against an eighteen-year-old Chinese youth at the Central Magistracy this morning. The case occurred as a sequel to the exciting affair in the early hours of yesterday morning, when the premises in which Mr. Sirdar Khan, the Chief Clerk of the Harbour Office, lives at No. 32 Russell Street, were on the point of being burgled.

Mr. Sirdar Khan told the Bench to-day that he was lying on his bed near the window when a noise made him aware of the fact that a burglar had climbed on to the verandah. It was but a matter of seconds before witness unlatched the window and went outside, where he encountered the burglar. The man struggled violently, even after he had been thrown to the ground. In that position, unseen by his adversary, he drew out a weapon (which was subsequently found to have been fashioned from a razor), and inflicted several nasty cuts on witness' left shoulder. The weapon was wrested from the burglar's hand with great difficulty, and in doing so, witness received another cut in his hand.

Asked if he had anything to say, the defendant admitted that he was on a burglarious intent, but that he did not mean to harm Mr. Sirdar Khan. If that had been his object, he could quite easily have used the knife on a more vital part. He could, for instance, have cut his adversary's stomach open!

His Worship imposed sentences aggregating six months' hard labour.

In regard to yet another charge of returning from banishment, Sub-Inspector Vincent produced fingerprint records which showed that the defendant had been twice convicted for larceny, and was banished on the last occasion for ten years.

On this charge Mr. Lindsay imposed an additional sentence of six months' and twenty strokes of the birch.

POLICE PROMOTION.

SEGT. MASON'S NEW RANK.

After having been connected with the local Police Force since 1920, Sergt. Mason, of the Traffic Department, has been appointed to the rank of Sub-Inspector of the mechanical work of the Force.

Sub-Inspector Mason joined the Force in December, 1920, and became a Sergeant three years later. He was put in charge of the mechanical department in January, 1924. His work consists of repairing and overhauling police vehicles, of which there are eleven A. J. S. combinations, three motor vans, and one motor car, and also regular examinations of all public vehicles, commercial cars, lorries, and private cars when necessary, in order to ensure they are kept in the best possible condition, and so conduce to the safety of driving on Hongkong's difficult roads.

He has been connected with motor work before and during the war, and is generally recognised to be an authority on the subject. He has done much valuable work for the public safety in both Hongkong and Kowloon by the unremitting attention he has paid to the condition of buses, taxis and other public vehicles.

OBITUARY.

DEATH OF WELL-KNOWN PORTUGUESE RESIDENT.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. M. P. Remedios, the accountant of the Eastern Extension Telegraph Co., which occurred yesterday at his residence, 8, Humphreys Avenue, Kowloon, after he had been confined to bed for nearly four months with paralysis.

The late Mr. Remedios was 45 years of age, and had been in the employ of the Eastern Extension Telegraph Co. for 28 years. He joined as an operator at the age of 17 and rose to the position of accountant, which he still held up to the time of his death.

The late Mr. Remedios was a well-known and highly-respected Portuguese resident. Of a quiet disposition, he was very popular amongst his friends. He leaves an aged mother, wife and nine children to mourn his loss.

The funeral will pass the Monument at 5.30 p.m. to-day.

Police Sergeant Herbert.

The death took place at the Kowloon Hospital last evening of Lance-Sergeant Herbert, of the Hongkong Police Force, who was found shot outside his room at Tsim Tsa Tsui station on Wednesday morning.

The deceased officer, who was previously in the East Surrey Regiment, had been in the force since 1924 and had become popular with all who knew him. His tragic death is widely regretted.

The funeral will take place this evening, the cortege passing the Monument at 5 p.m.

Mr. W. E. Rose.

It is with much regret that we have to chronicle the death of Mr. W. E. Rose, who, known affectionately by the sobriquet of "Clock Tower," had for many years been a well-known personality in the City. Death took place at the French Hospital early this morning. Deceased, who had not been well for two or three months past, was admitted to hospital on Tuesday.

The late Mr. Rose, who was a brother of Mr. L. A. Rose, architect, was for many years to be seen practically every day on the corner of Queen's Road and Pedder Street, where he was a friendly and cheerful gossip with a wide circle of acquaintances. It was this habit of his which earned him the nick-name of "Clock Tower," for he was always to be seen near that former landmark. He was a cheery and companionable man and his passing removes a well-liked figure.

Deceased, who 57 years of age, was prominently identified with the Craigengower Cricket Club, at which he had for some years looked after the grounds. In his younger days he was a well-known local runner, and latterly had taken much interest in lawn bowls. The funeral takes place this evening at five o'clock.

FLIGHT TO INDIA.

SIR SAMUEL HOARE AT KARACHI.

Rugby, Jan. 6.
Sir Samuel Hoare, the Secretary for Air, Lady Maud Moore and Air Vice-Marshal Sir Geoffrey Salmond landed at Karachi at 5.25 this afternoon.

This is the first long-distance passenger flight ever carried out to a pre-arranged time table of hours and minutes. So closely has the time-table been followed that, after flying 4,835 miles, the air liner was actually ten minutes early on arrival at Jask on the Persian Gulf. Here the only delay on the whole flight occurred, violent sandstorms delaying the air liner for a day. Despite this delay, however, India was reached from London in 11 days—the shortest time in which passengers have travelled between these two points.

The journey was accomplished by flying in daylight only, every night being spent comfortably at pre-arranged halts.—British Wireless.

At St. Albans, Hertfordshire, recently several noted astronomers, including the Astronomer-Royal, Sir Frank Dyson, took part in the commemoration of the 600th anniversary of the election of Richard of Willingford, the constructor of one of the earliest known clock, as Abbot at St. Albans.

ROYAL TOUR BEGINS.

DUKE AND DUCHESS OF YORK LEAVE.

London, Jan. 6.
The Duke and Duchess of York's train arrived at Portsmouth Dockyard at one o'clock in the afternoon, in bright sunshine, and drew up at the railway jetty, alongside which H. M. S. Renown was moored. The "Commander-in-Chief at Portsmouth" and others greeted them and when they boarded the Renown, the Duke's Standard was broken at the mainmast and the ships in harbour fired a Royal Salute. H.M.S. Renown sailed at 1.30 amid an outburst of cheers.—Reuter.

PICTURESQUE SCENE.

Rugby, Jan. 6.
The battle cruiser Renown, left Portsmouth at half past one this afternoon, bearing the Duke and Duchess of York on their voyage to Australia and New Zealand.

The Prince of Wales, Prince Henry and Prince George travelled with them from London to Portsmouth and accompanied them on board the warship.

The scene of embarkation was picturesque. The decks and turrets of the great vessel, which, in the brilliant sun shone like a silver ship, were lined with sailors in their blue with white collars, linked arm in arm. As the Duke stepped on board, his Standard was broken at the mainmast and there was a crash of twenty-one guns as the vessels in harbour fired the Royal salute, while the party were "piped on" by the boatswain in accordance with the old custom which prevailed in the days when Nelson boarded the "Victory." The Prince of Wales, as the senior officer, took the inspection of the Guard of Honour of one hundred Royal Marines assembled on the quarter deck. They presented a striking picture in their blue and gold uniforms with white pith helmets, caught by the sunlight.

Within half an hour the farewells had been said, the Princes returned ashore and the Renown slipped her moorings. All the ships in harbour were dressed and manned, and sirens were sounded while the guns of battleships, Iron Duke, Marlborough, Benbow and Emperor of India simultaneously crashed out a magnificent Royal Salute.

The Duke and Duchess appeared on the promenade deck, waving last good-byes to the Princes and cheering crowds. Four destroyers escorted the Renown until sunset, and five giant flying-boats also accompanied them round the Isle of Wight.—British Wireless.

AT THE CINEMAS.

"FEET OF CLAY" AT THE STAR.

A rather remarkable picture is perhaps the best way to describe "Feet of Clay," a Paramount production, which is showing at the Star Theatre, Kowloon, until next Saturday. Paramount have always been associated with the best films produced, and in "Feet of Clay," which embraces an all-star cast, a picture of unusual excellence has resulted.

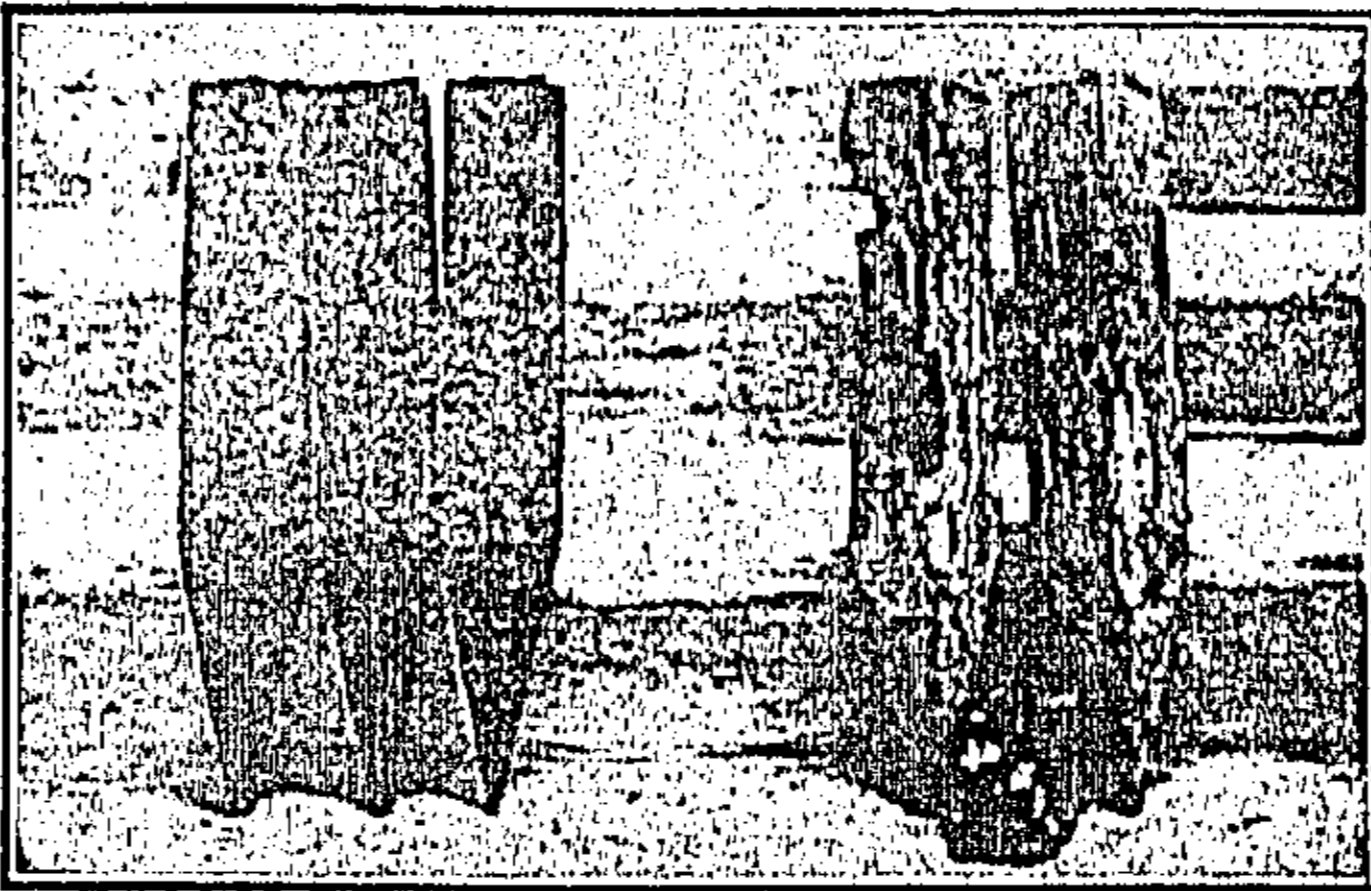

The story generally follows the orthodox, in this case two women loving one man, but the end of the picture is easily the most gripping, when an imaginary effort depicts the weary march of dead souls through the skies, where an archangel sits at a big book and directs which of the portals each soul shall enter. This is extremely weird. There is also a thrilling incident in a fight with a shark in the Pacific, when the hero dives in to fight the monster fish to save the girl he loves. Although the eternal triangle is stressed, the story is told in a fresh and interesting manner, and contains many humorous and emotional scenes.

"SPARROWS" AT THE QUEEN'S.

There are sob and thrills aplenty in "Sparrows," which is the main attraction at the Queen's Theatre just now. The main part of the story, dealing as it does with the miseries and hardships of a group of kidnapped children on a baby farm situated in a lonely swamp, is rather gruesome and sombre, but is somewhat relieved by touches of comedy and pathos. Mary Pickford stars as Mollie, the eldest of the group, who befriends the others, and all through, her acting is most powerful. There are some extremely exciting scenes when the children, threatened with being thrown into the slimy swamp, make a bid for liberty, and if this

NOTES AND NEWS—LOCAL AND OTHERWISE.

SUPER TRANSMITTER.

STATION THAT ENCIRCLES THE GLOBE.

Eighty times more powerful than the ordinary broadcasting station transmitter; four times as powerful as any other United States naval station—

That's the new Chellas Heights naval radio station vacuum tube transmitter just completed and installed at San Diego, California.

On the navy's newest and most powerful transmitter messages can be sent to American warships anywhere in the world at night. The set has a range of 12,500 miles—enough to girdle the globe. The broadcaster is intended strictly for dots and dashes. The human voice cannot be heard over it in the absence of special apparatus.

Code messages may be sent over it at the rate of 100 words a minute. Compare this with commercial rates of about 40 words.

CAN'T RECEIVE.

The Chellas Heights station, which sits in the shadow of a mountain, atop a hill, and overlooks the Pacific ocean 11 miles distant, is a remote control station. It is used for sending purposes only.

It broadcasts automatically messages from a sending key on Pt. Loma.

The messages fly from antenna strung on three masts, each 600 feet high, the three forming a triangle 1100 feet on a side. Cross-arms at the top are 60 feet in length.

Six transmitters make up the sending apparatus. The 80,000-watt tubes replace 200,000-watt are transmitters.

TRIAL STATION.

"The significance of this new set," says Lieut. Com. A. C. Thomas, communications officer for the eleventh naval district, "lies in the fact that, if it proves completely successful, other naval radio stations will give up the use for the tube."

"Already we have noted that broadcast fans within the very shadows of the towers suffer no interference when the station runs full blast."

This station is one of three recently built by a large American company. One went to Japan. The third to South America.

The 20,000-watt tube in this set is the largest yet made for practical use. The copper plate heats so rapidly water is used for cooling. Twenty-two volts of electricity light the filaments. The plates take as high as 15,000 volts.

The station cost $1,500,000; the new sending apparatus $80,000.

RADIO JOTTINGS.

A recent radio product is a loud speaker that can be heard at a distance of 10 or 12 miles.

"Newcomers in broadcasting should be assigned the lower band of wavelengths, leaving the higher ones for owners of stations who have pioneered and developed the art," says Powell-Crosley, Jr., an American radio manufacturer.

Although separated from his business by several thousand miles while on a trip to New Zealand, Mr. A. J. Baldwin of Portland, Oregon, kept in touch with his firm through the co-operation of amateur radio stations in New Zealand and Portland.

An instrument combining the principles of a piano and radio has been invented. The instrument has a keyboard similar to a piano but each key is connected to a radio vacuum tube. Every time a key is depressed a radio oscillator circuit gives rise to a pure note in the loud speaker.

Afternoon programmes for broadcast stations have been gaining in number and popularity in America. It is expected that during the winter season most radio stations will make full use of their afternoon time.

LOW WAVE TESTS.

BROADCASTING TROUBLES INVESTIGATED.

Schenectady, Dec. 6th.—The difficulties attending broadcasting on low wavelengths, for which some broadcasters have been hopping, are brought out strikingly in tests just completed by radio engineers of the General Electric Company here.

The greatest argument these tests produced, against popular broadcasting on low wavelengths was the enormous "skips" or jumps made by the waves before they could be caught by a receiver. Second only to this was the increasing fading that accompanied the decrease of wavelengths.

With these important difficulties there is no hope for short wave broadcasting, at least below 100 meters.

The tests were made over a period of a month, last spring, and had the co-operation of more than 500 amateur members of the American Radio Relay League and its corresponding associations throughout the world. Reports came to the engineers from every part of the globe.

From the information collected, the engineers came to the following conclusions:

THE FINDINGS.

Fifteen meter signals can't be heard over a "skip distance" from the transmitter of from 600 to 900 miles by day and 1000 miles by night. This skip distance seemed to decrease with the increase of the wavelength, just as fading decreased in the same way. Fading, also, was more pronounced at night than by day.

For great distances, the best of the short waves was that of 32.79 meters or 9150 kilocycles. This wave reached the maximum distance, halfway around the world.

The most all-around short wave seemed to be that of 50.2 meters, or 5970 kilocycles. This proved to have no skip distance, being audible close to the transmitter, had a useful day range up to 1100 miles and good signal strength at night up to 2650 miles.

Both vertical and horizontal types of antennae were employed in the transmission tests, but no pronounced differences were noted between them.

INDUSTRY'S EXPANSION.

Chicago.—From 37,000 radio receiving sets in operation in 1920, the industry has developed to the point where more than 5,000,000 homes are equipped with radio, reports Mr. J. B. Hawley, chairman of the statistical committee of the Radio Manufacturers Association.

In 1922, radio sales amounted to $46,600,000 for sets, parts and accessories. This year, the total sales will mount to $520,000,000, of which more than half will have been set for new receivers.

By Mr. Hawley's figures, the industry has increased almost 100 per cent. each year for the last four years, although this percentage is beginning to show a decline, due to the high figures attained.

From 1920, the number of receivers in use by years, has been as follows: 1920—37,000; 1921—75,000; 1922—150,000; 1923—2,000,000; 1924—3,000,000; 1925—4,000,000; 1926—5,000,000.

The country is maintained by KOA, Denver, at the Union Pacific railroad shops. A concert is broadcast at this studio once a week by the Union Pacific employees' band. Plenty of train-yard atmosphere is supplied by shrill whistles of passing locomotives, clanging bells and the vibrant ring of hammer on anvil.

A motion picture company has filmed announcers and artists at work in the studio of WSAI, Cincinnati. The picture will soon be released in leading picture houses of the country and fans will have an opportunity of seeing in "action" persons they have listened to on the air.

Gain after gain for natural tobacco taste

It stands to reason—the better the tobaccos, the better the taste. And when matched to bring out natural tobacco character—better still!

There's character in Chesterfields—natural character—the natural mildness and good taste of fine tobaccos perfectly blended. How else account for Chesterfield's record—America's fastest-growing cigarette for four consecutive years? How else, than through a natural goodness which men find in no other cigarette?

ONE MORE FREED.

SUNNING DEFENDANT IS DISCHARGED.

Another defendant in the Sunning piracy case was discharged at the Central Magistracy yesterday.

He is the monumental stone mason of Aberdeen and after he had given evidence on his own behalf yesterday and after witnesses, including a former defendant in the case had also described his movements, he was set at liberty.

At the conclusion of the evidence brought by Mr. Le on behalf of the man, Mr. Lindsell said he did not think any jury would convict on the evidence the prosecution had.

The Crown Solicitor pointed out that Mrs. Anderson identified the man at a parade.

Mr. Lindsell: Yes, but not here.

Mr. Holmes added that was one of the difficulties which confronted him. Mrs. Anderson had said that there was a man like No. 6 among the pirates, but he was not the man. The evidence of the man's business certainly seemed almost overwhelming.

Pointing out that the evidence of the last witness had been strongly corroborative, Mr. Lindsell discharged No. 6.

Three large owls, a hawk, and a dove, which had been blown out to sea and took refuge in the rigging of the steamship Exeter City on its homeward journey from New York to Bristol, have been presented to Clifton Zoological Gardens.

ROBBERS SHOT.

POLICE BATTLE WITH ARMED MEN.

The hearing of various charges preferred against four Chinese, arising out of the recent battle with armed robbers at the Wo Lung distillery in Kwai Chung village, in the vicinity of Gin Drinkers' Bay, on December 2, was commenced before Mr. T. W. Ainsworth at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday afternoon.

The four men, three of whom were described as sailors on board a cargo junk, were all charged with attempted armed robbery, conspiracy to commit an armed robbery and possession of instruments fit for an unlawful purpose, to wit wire, gags and wine cups. The first defendant, stated to be unemployed, was further charged with possession of a dagger.

Detective Sub-Inspector Fallon, prosecuting, said that the master of the Kwai Lung distillery purchased the premises in March 1925 and at that time had in his employment a man named Yat, who remained in his service until the outbreak of the strike, when he left but returned again in October the same year. He continued his work until the end of the Chinese year, when he was discharged for creating trouble among the other folks.

Even after his dismissal he frequently visited the distillery and a few days before the recent occurrence, he went to the premises with six other men. During the course of a conversation this man asked the master on what night he would be sleeping on the premises.

Police Informed.

On the same day the master had received information that Man Yat and others had planned to kidnap him. A report was made to the Police and the master made arrangements that he should sleep at the distillery on the night of December 2.

Under Sub-Inspector Andrew, of the Water Police Station, a party of detectives went to the distillery and were posted in various parts of the house. Nothing occurred until 10 o'clock, when a junk was seen to come into the bay and six men landed. They left the junk and headed for the distillery. Two minutes afterwards they entered the premises, two of them going up to the first floor.

The men entered the room where Sub-Inspector Andrew and other detectives with the master were in hiding. On seeing the Police one of the men fired, and although there was a report no bullet was discharged. Inspector Andrew returned the fire and killed the man instantly.

The other man engaged the detective and then ran down the stairs. After firing two shots, he was also killed. Another man ran towards the sea, attempting to reach the junk, but he was fired at by the detectives and shot.

Referring to the arrest of the first defendant Inspector Fallon said that he was found hiding behind a number of oil drums. He was holding a dagger and when searched a quantity of wire and gags were found on his person.

He was pretending to be asleep, with the dagger in this hands as if ready to make use of it if necessary.

There was little proof against the other defendants none of whom were seen in the distillery. The evidence that would be produced against them, however, was that they were on board the junk which had arrived with the sails hoisted; and it was not until the firing began that they sailed away.

They had told the Police in their statements that they were forced at the points of revolvers to proceed to the distillery, but if that had been the case, they had sufficient time, while the other men were in the distillery to make their get-way.

They were chased by a Police launch and after five shots had been fired at them, they were overtaken and the junk seized. The three defendants were arrested on board but when searched nothing was found in their possession. On searching the junk later, further coils of wire and wine cups were found.

The following day a search was made of the beach opposite the distillery and a chopper, a revolver and some wire were found.

After formal evidence was taken the case was adjourned till this afternoon.

It will be recalled that four men were fatally wounded. One man dying in hospital some days later.

speeches, and hold processions; seven, Volunteers and armed police must no longer carry arms or wear uniforms; eight, the Chinese Government must send civil and armed police to the British Concession to maintain peace and order, and the headquarters of the garrison troops must be established there.

Article two declares a big demonstration parade is to be held in the native city at two this afternoon.

Article three states an economic boycotting committee should be organized.

Article four declares a "boycotting of the British" Committee, of the Wuhan cities, should be organized.

Article five states they should telegraph to the whole world declaring the outlawry of the British.

The foregoing ultimatum is to be complied with within 72 hours.

VOLUNTEERS LEAVE.

By 6 o'clock yesterday evening it was extremely dangerous for any foreigner to appear in the British Concession.

British Volunteers who were standing by at headquarters all the afternoon and evening, by arrangement with the Chinese authorities, commenced evacuation at 9.30, all rifles, ammunition, Lewis guns, etc., being taken to a hulk, which the navy had moored, all gear being removed in lorries, and private cars carrying the Volunteers with Chinese troops on the footboards as a precaution against the mobs.

The evacuation was carried out without any hitch by 2 o'clock this morning.

Many British residents were besieged by howling mobs after the evacuation.

The headquarters are now in charge of Chinese soldiery, and this morning pickets of soldiers were keeping order.

The population were surprised by the fact that the Concession was allowed to be taken over without defence.

All Chinese workers in British firms have been called out to attend an anti-British mass meeting at eleven this morning. Delinquents will be forced to attend.

Chinese Authorities Given A Chance.

Rugby, Jan. 6. The Chinese authorities at Hankow have informed the British officials that they can, and will restore order. Demonstrators, however, have not yet been removed from the Concession.

The British naval forces, which are being strengthened, are remaining on the vessels in the river, to give the Chinese authorities every opportunity of controlling the situation, but they are readily available in case of urgent need.

The British Concession is situated next to the Chinese City, the other foreign concessions lying further along the riverside.

SUNNING PIRACY.

MAGISTRATE'S DISCRETION.

Mr. Lo said there could not be a clearer enunciation on the subject than that of Sir Edward Clarke, a well-known legal authority, whose opinion was endorsed by the Full Court of Appeal of Hongkong sitting to decide one of the cases quoted. This was, that although there was a prima facie case on the evidence, the Magistrate's Court had full discretion to discharge where the circumstances were obscure, the intent doubtful, and the evidence conflicting.

Mr. Lo then called the first of the remaining defendants to give evidence. He said he proposed to hold over the Formosan's case for the present as he had not yet been able to obtain certain documents from the Japanese Consulate-General which might, or might not, be relevant to the case.

AMBASSADOR AND A FILM.FRIENDLY WARNING TO FOREIGN OFFICE.

The exhibition in London of the American film "Beau Geste," a vivid picture of the French Foreign Legion, has been the subject of discussions between M. de Fleuriau, the French Ambassador in London, and officials of the Foreign Office.

M. de Fleuriau informed the Foreign Office that it had been reported to him from New York that the exhibition of the film there had given rise to strong feeling, and had led to some violent scenes in the theatre where it was shown.

A Daily Express representative was informed that the French Embassy that the Ambassador had passed on this information in the course of an informal discussion, and that he had taken no official action in the matter.

It was denied that he had "protested" against the exhibition of the film in London, as has been reported from Paris. A similar denial was also given at the Foreign Office.

It was clear, however, from a statement at the French Embassy, that the effect of the exhibition of the film had been considered by officials at the Foreign Office.

"The action taken by the Ambassador has been misreported," said the secretary.

"The Ambassador first heard of the film a fortnight ago, when a letter was received from the French Consular authorities in New York. It was stated in this that the exhibition of the film there had stirred up pro-French and anti-French feeling. The Ambassador mentioned the matter at the Foreign Office more as a friendly warning than anything else."

"The Ambassador was asked if he would like any of the scenes to be 'cut,' but he replied that that was not a matter for him."

The Daily Express Cinema Correspondent writes:—The French protests against "Beau Geste," both here and in New York, are based mainly, it is understood, on the character of Sergeant Lejaune, the brutal despot, so splendidly portrayed by Mr. Noah Beery.

Major Wren, the author, states that Lejaune came from the Belgian Congo. It would be well to emphasise the fact that he is not a Frenchman.

The Accrington Rural Deanery Sunday School Association is to call a meeting to consider whether the Charleston shall be permitted at Sunday school dances.
